

Scout Skits

Skits form the body of a pack meeting or campfire program. A couple well-rehearsed and acted out comedy skits are talked about for weeks afterward. Scout skits tend to be gross or slapstick but there's no reason a good thought-provoking one can't be thrown in. Find free scripts for your group of scouts or search for specific humorous skits for your next campfire program.

Three Vs. 1000 Skit

Required:

3 scouts

Script:

This can be done as a story or a skit.

Three scouts limp and stumble onstage. They are soldiers that have just survived a horrific battle.

Ad-libbing the entire conversation works better than memorized lines, but should go something like this...

1: What a battle!

2: What amazing odds! And, to think we survived!

3: Yeah, THREE against A THOUSAND - simply amazing!

1: We never should have attempted it. THREE against A THOUSAND and we're still here to tell about it.

2: That's enough fighting for me. I'm retiring from the army. Fighting THREE against A THOUSAND has completely worn me out.

3: Me too. I think we've made a name for ourselves. THREE against A THOUSAND - I still can't believe it!

1: OK, I'll quit too. You know, those were the toughest THREE guys I've ever fought against!

Broken Finger Skit

Required:

2 scouts

Script:

Scout #1: Hey, Johnny, you're good with first aid. I need your help.

Scout #2: OK, what's the problem?

Scout #1: When I touch my forehead with my finger, it really hurts. When I push on my jaw, it's also painful. When I press on my stomach, I almost cry. What can it be?

(does each thing as he says them, always pushing with the tip of the same finger)

(Scout #2 looks in his ears, listens to his heart, has him open his mouth, ...)

Scout #2: Man, I don't know. You'd better go see the doctor right away.

Scout #1: OK, I'll be right back.

(Scout #1 runs offstage and returns right back.)

Scout #2: So, what did the doctor say? What's wrong with you?

Scout #1: He says I have a broken finger.
